First Call for Papers

The Asia Pacific Conference on Postgraduate Research in Microelectronics & Electronics (PrimeAsia) is a new initiative of the IEEE Circuits and Systems Society for engaging students. It aims to provide opportunities for postgraduate students to present their research works and to interact with people in the research community and industry. Although all the papers at PrimeAsia 2009 will be presented by postgraduate students, experienced people from academia and industry are warmly invited to attend, in order to create a stimulating environment for favoring exchange of knowledge and mentoring of young researchers. In addition to the conference program, tutorials on emerging technologies will be conducted by internationally renowned experts; some sessions will be dedicated to companies, enabling students to get in touch with companies and other institutions. PrimeAsia covers a wide range of topics including, but not limited to, the followings:

- Analog Signal Processing
- Biomedical Circuits and Systems
- Blind Signal Processing
- Circuits and Systems for Communications
- Computer-Aided Design
- Digital Signal Processing
- MEMS
- Multimedia Systems and Applications
- Nanoelectronics and Gigascale Systems
- Neural Systems and Applications
- Power Systems and Power Electronic Circuits
- Sensory Systems
- Visual Signal Processing and Communications
- VLSI Systems and Applications

Paper Awards

The accepted papers will be rated based on review scores. Author(s) will receive:
GOLD LEAF Certificate for top 10% papers
SILVER LEAF Certificate for 10-20% papers
BRONZE LEAF Certificate for 20-30% papers

Paper submissions: Complete 4-page manuscript (in standard IEEE double-column format), including title, authors' names, affiliations and e-mail addresses, and a short abstract are requested. Papers must be submitted electronically in PDF format. Only electronic submissions will be accepted. For any enquiries, please contact the conference secretary at enquiry@primeasia.org. Please refer to conference web site for details:
